Opening of the North-German Parliament—Speech of King William.

King William to-day opened the session of the North German Parliament.

The speech from the throne a programme of the law to be proposed to the Reichstag is given. Amongst them are bills for a new criminal code, for the development of the right of citizenship in the Confederation. Parliament is assured that the federal revenues now promise to equal the expenditures. Union with the Southern States is still urged, and the treaty with the Grand Duke of Baden is pronounced a link in the chain. Peace with all foreign nations has been preserved in accordance with the policy of the members of the Confederation. The army is maintained solely for defence, not for oppression. The speech concludes with congratulations on the development of the welfare of the North German States.

M. Rochefort's Position.

M. Rochefort has addressed a letter to the Prefect of the Police, claiming, in moderate and respectful terms, the right to furnish articles to his own journal, the Marseillais, without submitting them to the examination of the keeper of the prison.

ENGLAND.

The Colonial Question in Parliament—Canada and New Zealand—Irish Radicalism and Raids on North American Territory.

In the House of Lords to-day the Earl of Carnarvon moved for copies of the correspondence with Canada and other colonies relative to the mail of troops. He desired that the colonial question should have careful consideration. He favored a confederation of which Albion would be the centre. He commended Canada for her consistent conservatism, and deprecated the theory that the colonies should be ruled by independent committees.

Lord Lytton called attention to the prospects of New Zealand and thought that colony was about to enter on a new and prosperous career.

Lord Monck explained his reasons for asking for more troops when he was Governor General of the Colonies. The battle of Sadowa had been fought, and as the war in Europe ended the home government could spare the men. The Fenians, who were supposed to be armed with breach-loaders, had just made a raid into Canada. The colonies were in a panic, and clamored for protection. Under these circumstances it was his duty to call for reinforcements from England. He then discussed the subject of the relations of the colonies to the mother country, and summed generally the wisdom of colonial self-protection.

The Earl of Derby congratulated Earl Granville that the colonies were not to be left utterly defenceless and that their relations with the home government were harmonious.

Lord Lytton asked that serious consideration be given to the policy of colonial independence.

The House then adjourned.

The Alabama Claims Negotiations—The Budget and Diplomatic Reform—Looking After Venus.

In the House of Commons Mr. Olway, Under Secretary for the Foreign Department, denied the truth of the report that the United States had offered to reopen negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama claims. He added that, if renewed, the negotiations would be conducted at Washington instead of London.

Mr. Lowe, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he hoped to submit the budget to the House before Easter.

Mr. Lofthouse asked leave to introduce a bill relative to the merchant marine. The bill is very long, containing nearly 800 clauses, and embodies the views of the shipping community. It will probably be referred to a select committee.

A motion was made for a select committee to consider and report reforms in the diplomatic and consular service.

A message from the Queen was received announcing that arrangements had been made for the departure of the Princess Alice for the West Indies.

House then adjourned.

Cotton Manufacture and the Market.

The cotton mill at Preston, in Lancashire, which were compelled to stop work since account of the depression in the cotton trade, are resuming.

A correspondent, probably a day, attributing the cause of the late decline in the spinners will large supply, and adds that the slight reaction in the market has occurred.

Mr. Seward at Matanzas—Capture of a Schooner with a Cargo of Arms—Arrival of Santa Anna at Havana—He is Ordered to Leave.

Mr. William H. Seward has arrived at Matanzas. Several accomplices in the murder of Isaac Greenwalt have been arrested.

A schooner, with a cargo of arms for the insurgents, went ashore near Guara, during a sale from the north. She was discovered by the Spanish officers and seized. Her crew escaped into the interior. At last accounts the troops were taking out the schooner's cargo.

General Santa Anna arrived in Havana yesterday. He came here from Puerto Plata with the intention of taking passage in the British steamer on the 23d inst. for Vera Cruz. But the Captain General has ordered him to leave the island by the first steamer that sails from Havana for any other than a Mexican port, being determined to allow no violation of international law. Santa Anna had a personal interview with the Captain General, but the latter was firm in his refusal to allow him to proceed to Mexico. So the ex-President will leave immediately, either for Nassau or St. Thomas.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

Brazilian Reports of the Pursuit of Lopez.

The British mail steamer has arrived from Rio Janeiro.

The general in command of the allied forces in Paraguay was moving in pursuit of Lopez. It became known that the latter was in full retreat, and that the allied forces had offered their services to the Brazilians.

Tax on Foreign Insurance Companies—Election of Directors of the Duquenois and Sioux City Railroad.

The City Attorney has brought suits against twenty-one foreign insurance companies doing business in Chicago. Under the laws of Illinois every foreign insurance company doing business here through agents is required to pay two per cent of their gross earnings into the City Treasury. The agents of the companies prosecuted have neglected or refused to comply with the law. The first suit commenced is against the American Insurance Company of New York.

The annual election of directors of the Duquenois and Sioux City Railroad was held to-day, and resulted in the choice of Morris K. Jessup, Isaac H. Knox, Walter H. Evans and John F. Slater. Mr. Slater was elected a director in the place of John S. Kennedy, of New York. No other business of importance was transacted.

The bookkeeper in Messrs. Tallman & King's drug store was detected a few days since in the use of opium, morphine and quinine from his employers. He confessed to having taken $5,000 worth. The two partners of the firm have decided with the firm and he was allowed to go.

MASSACHUSETTS.

A Contemptible Swindle—Cheating Frodoes Out of Their Christmas Dinner—Said Against the Warden of the State Prison.

A suit has been brought against Aldon Haynes, Warden of the State Prison, by H. L. C. Dorsey, of Pawtucket, the well known benefactor of prison inmates in various parts of this Commonwealth and other States. Mr. Dorsey's benefactions have taken the shape of donations of poultry for the purpose of providing prisoners on certain days named by him with a fowl for their Christmas dinner. On Christmas day, however, under an alias, and bearing a letter of introduction from himself, he discovered that the terms of his donation were not fulfilled as the dinner was not given to the men and the text which he had secured was not presented from the Chaplain. Mr. Dorsey then went to the Warden and demanded the balance remaining in his hands and the portion spent he now seeks to recover.

WOOLEN MILLS AT HUNTINGTON BURNED—LOSS $300,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 14, 1870.
